Educational Activity:

21st Judicial Community Corrections Program allows 1st time felons to do community service in lieu of jail time; more than 20 illegal dumps & an estimated 200 miles of roadways were cleaned.

Gateway District Health Department report newly discovered dumps, assist directly with clean-up activities & assist in tracking improvements. They have made more than 25 presentations to area groups representing some 250 hours devoted strictly to public educational efforts.

Bath Co. Fiscal Court--Offer assistance to participating environmental groups. Authorized expenses for garbage bags, glove and other protective clothing, tools, heavy equipment use, county dump trucks, and manpower.

Bath Co. Schools--Students stay involved in all aspects of environmental improvements.

Private Business--At least 50 business participated in special clean up efforts. Some are part of the "adopt-a-highway" program. This number of businesses represents a 300% increase over past years.

Cities--At least 6 illegal dumps were eradicated within the city limits of Salt Lick and they also contributed $300 in cash toward removal of tires during these efforts. An estimated 20 tons of garbage were removed from private properties and another 10 tons were cleaned from public right-of-ways.

Sheriff's Dept.--Identified dump sites and enforced laws pertaining to illegal dumping. Sheriff Armitage visited sites on an "as asked" basis and investigates the cause. He was also know to have illegal dumpers clean up not only what they dumped but also piles of trash accumulated along those roadways for a mile or so either direction.

The Trigg county school system operates 13 recycling containers. Each container says "4H Recycles - WHITE PAPER ONLY".

In February 2000 the schools held their trash sculpture contest to promote the idea of reduce, reuse, recycle, and rethink. The local newspaper and radio station gave good coverage to environmental issues throughout the year.

County runs ads twice yearly in the newspaper listing all the trash collectors and phone numbers, items that are accepted at the recycle center and schedules for the mobile recycling trailer.

Trigg County advertises the 1-888-NODUMPS hotline number and participates in the DOT Adopt-a-Highway projects. Local 4-H chapter held a recycle reuse them poster contest for the 4th and 5th graders of Trigg County.

Educational Activity:

Warren County has used the news media, advertising, promotional flyers, personal letters and personal contacts to stress the importance of solid waste management. Collection, Reduction, Reuse, Recycling and Enforcement are all stressed in equal measures.

Education activities include open dump cleanups; community-wide household hazardous waste collection day; white goods collection day; community-wide cleanup events, including Commonwealth Cleanup Week; presentations to school children and civic groups; news releases, interviews and photo opportunities for news media. Organizations, including Operation P.R.I.D.E. and Bowling Green and Warren County public schools, continue to hold programs to raise the awareness of environmental issues that not only include waste management, but total environmental consciousness.

"CrimeStoppers" encourages reporting illegal dumping incidents. Fliers, posters, brochures and other publications are given to the public. And Warren County and Bowling Green codes enforcement officials deal one-on-one with violators, providing education, assistance and enforcement of environmental violations on civil level.
